

GET THE MOST VALUE FOR YOUR REGISTRATION

With more than 70 years of standards, quality, safety and environmental management experience, NSF-ISR is the registrar your organization wants to work with. As your global registration partner, you and your organization can be confident that you will receive world-class support for all your certification requirements. NSF International's International Strategic Registrations (NSF-ISR) is one of the largest registrars in the world and the largest North American-based registrar.

NSF-ISR is a leading global certification body, known for its superior technical expertise and customer satisfaction. Representing the highest level of integrity, the NSF-ISR mark is recognized as the gold standard of the certification industry.

VALUE AND EXPERTISE

Our auditing approach ensures that NSF-ISR audits continually bring value to your organization. NSFISR's auditors see your organization from your industry's perspective. Our more than 300 auditors average more than 10 years of industry experience. Additionally, superior management tools, like NSF Online, provide you with real-time, dynamic information about all audit-related activities as well as key organizational benchmark performance data.

NSF-ISR has a vastly diversified customer base, serving many industries. We have the coverage and flexibility to work with organizations of all sizes in locations worldwide. Our customer portfolio includes Fortune 500 companies as well as small, local operations.

NSF-ISR is recognized as a key contributor in the development and revision of globally-recognized standards. NSF-ISR was one of the first U.S. registrars to obtain ANAB accreditation to ISO 13485, and among the first to be recognized by the IATF for ISO/TS 16949. We have key technical experts who participate on panels that write and update standards, ensuring that we have the latest and most accurate information.

NSF-ISR regularly demonstrates its technical expertise and leadership by providing valuable training, gap analysis and all the information you need to ensure a successful registration experience. We are here to guide you through the ISO transition period. Through white papers, webinars, web-based tools, onsite trainings and readiness reviews, we have the tools you need to meet, and exceed, the requirements for registration. All of our transition materials are available at www.nsf.org/info/iso-updates.
