GLOBAL EXPERTS FOR PHARMACEUTICAL CONSULTING, AUDITING AND TRAINING
OFFERING YOU PRACTICAL SOLUTIONS WITH OUTSTANDING RESULTS
Pharmaceutical and biotech companies are challenged by more complex supply chains, ever-changing regulations and a volatile and uncertain global environment where patients and healthcare providers expect affordable, high quality medicines.

At NSF we have over 30 years’ industry experience. We have all stood in your shoes. We understand your challenges.

Our customized education programs are designed to change behaviors and improve workplace practices, not just to pass on information.

Our consultancy and auditing services have one objective in mind: to help improve your productivity (efficiency and profit) and regulatory compliance. Unless you achieve both, you will go out of business.

CONSULTING

PROVIDING SPECIALIST KNOWLEDGE, EXPERT ADVICE

Contact us if you want to be proactive and drive improvements, or if you have some specific regulatory or technical issues and need guidance. We offer the following services:

- Development and implementation of cost-effective, compliant pharmaceutical quality systems
- Advice on design, qualification and validation of new facilities, equipment, computerized systems and processes
- Legal and regulatory issue guidance
- Assistance with responses to regulatory inspection reports
- Simplification of quality processes, SOPs and batch records
- Advice on specific technical problems
- Benchmarking against best industry practices – beyond the regulations
AUDITING

STANDARDS
NSF perform audits against Good Manufacturing Practice, Good Distribution Practice, Good Pharmacovigilance Practice and Good Clinical Practice international regulations.

AUDITS
We audit active pharmaceutical ingredients, excipients, medicinal product manufacturers, distributors, investigational medicinal product manufacturers, QC laboratories, affiliates, contract manufacturers, computerized systems and more.

Our processes can be tailored to your specific needs, including:

- Due diligence audits
- Compliance auditing – assessment of activities against standards
- Inspection readiness audits
- Auditing your supplier
- Audits of your internal audit processes

Outputs can include efficiently reaching compliance.

TRAINING AND EDUCATION PROGRAMS
PROVIDING YOU WITH CUSTOMIZED ON-SITE TRAINING, EXTERNAL COURSES AND eLEARNING

You are only as good as your people. We offer education programs that will change behaviors, improve performance and “future proof” your organization. Any of our public courses can be tailored and run on-site.

Examples of education offered annually include:

- Good manufacturing practice, including clinical trials
- Regulatory issues and regulatory affairs
- Auditing and self-inspections (Including a CQI and IRCA certified course)
- Sterile and biotech products manufacture
- Quality risk management
- Human error prevention
- Changing GMP behaviors
- Data integrity
- Process validation
- Deviation and CAPA Management
- Good distribution practice

We also work alongside the University of Strathclyde to provide a Royal Society of Chemistry Approved Qualified Person training program.
WHAT MAKES NSF DIFFERENT?

> We work hard to help you simplify your processes and systems to reduce operational costs.

> We don’t just tell you about regulatory requirements, we help you interpret them. 30 years’ industry experience allows us to offer pragmatic solutions based on good science and sound common sense.

> We believe being risk averse in an uncertain world will damage your business. We help you become more risk smart.

> We don’t believe in off-the-shelf solutions. Every person and every company are different. We provide customized solutions and improvements that work.

> Unless there is client engagement there is no lasting improvement. We take our role very seriously, so you truly own the improvements.

> We measure our success by how quickly we leave you! Our focus is to improve your internal skills and competences, so you can thrive without us.

> Global access. With offices around the world, we offer you services regardless of your location.

> Relationships matter to us! Over 85 percent of our clients stay with us because we care about their future. Free journals, webinars and consultancy support are available when the need arises.
